Karen Perkins with the Wenlok Jug

£25,000 reward set for Wenlok Jug's return

A £25,000 reward has been offered for the return of the Wenlok Jug – if it is in a 'reasonable' condition.

Zurich, the company that insures the Stockwood Discovery Centre from where the jug was stolen, announced on Friday that it will pay the money as long as the recipient had no involvement in the theft.

The historical artefact, which was bought for £750,000 in 2006, was stolen from the museum on May 12.

Paul Redington from Zurich's Major Loss team said: "Zurich fully realises the importance of the Wenlok Jug both to the museum and to the people of Luton. We are therefore offering £25,000 for the return of the jug in a reasonable condition.

"Stockwood Discovery Centre is a place where people can freely view and enjoy such objects. We are dealing with criminals who have deprived the public of that experience.

"These cases are not just about writing a cheque. Ultimately, Zurich wants to assist the museum's efforts to get this jug back where it belongs, and so that it can be enjoyed by future generations."

Karen Perkins, Director of Museums for Luton Culture said: "We hope that this offer from our insurance company will accelerate the return of the Wenlok jug. We know that people in Luton care about it as a part of Luton's heritage."

If you have any information that can help with the investigation, call Bedfordshire Police on 101.

Justice for attacked child

BY LUI STRACCIA

luisstraccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

THE top law officer in the country has praised Luton on Sunday for criticising the weak sentences handed to two child rapists whose jail terms were this week more than doubled following an appeal.

Our exclusive story in February flagging up the 40-month jail terms given to the men, who raped an 11-year-old girl in the stairwell of a block of flats in Park Street, Luton, outraged thousands across the country when it went on to develop national interest.

The 'abhorrent' attacks carried out by Ruben Monteiro, of Bailey Street, Luton and Roshane Channer, of no fixed abode, both 21, were filmed by a 16-year-old boy on his mobile phone and there was evidence the humiliating footage had later been 'circulated'. Along with the soft sentences, what inflamed public reaction to our original story was a comment by Judge David Farrell QC that the victim was a 'willing participant' in the sex – despite those under 13 being unable to legally consent to sex.

LoS's website was subsequently inundated with messages of shock at the sentences and judge's remarks from members of the public, and a flood of complaints were made to Attorney General Dominic Grieve QC, whose successful appeal against the 'unduly lenient' sentences on Wednesday saw the 40-month terms increased to seven years by the Court of Appeal.

LoS praised for criticising 'unduly lenient' jail terms for rapists

This week Lord Justice Pitchford said that, even if there was 'willingness' on the girl's part, as Monteiro and Channer had claimed, that was no excuse for the rape of a child and the mob-handed element of the crimes also made them worse.

He said: "The circumstances here were that two adults jointly took advantage of a child in degrading circumstances... the group nature of the activity and the recording of the event constituted serious aggravating features of an already exploitative offence. "The harm done by the offenders will be long-lasting and perhaps permanent."

He added the starting point for calculating the men's sentences, before giving them credit for their guilty pleas, should have been 11 years or 'somewhat higher'.

In an interview with us, Mr Grieve said: "I understand Luton on Sunday

How we ran the story in January was the first media outlet to question the length of the sentences in this case and I'm very pleased that it did.

"Papers such as LoS play a vital role in publicising the Unduly Lenient Sentence (ULS) scheme, so people know that there is a way to have apparently unduly lenient sentences examined and, in some cases, increased. The fact is that in this case two adults took advantage of a child in degrading circumstances and 'willingness' here had to be seen in the context of the exploitation of a young child.

The judge in the case, David Farrell QC

"In my view the original sentences of 40 months was unduly lenient and did not properly reflect the seriousness of these crimes.

"The Court of Appeal agreed and has sent out a strong message in respect of the sentencing of sexual offences committed against a child under the age of 13.

"Sentencing is a complicated process and judges must think about many considerations when making their decisions."

David Tucker, head of Strategy and Development at the NSPCC, said: "We welcome Luton on Sunday's focus on this case and the fact it has worked hard to bring public attention to these lenient sentences.

"No child can give consent to being sexually assaulted so deterrent sentences are needed, which is why we lobbied the Attorney General in this particularly distressing case."

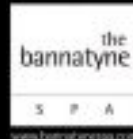

Chief Crown Prosecutor Baljit Ubhey said: "We work with the police and the courts to ensure victims are given the best possible support.

"Cases of rape and other serious sexual offences are among the most difficult cases that we deal with and need to be dealt with very sensitively."

Ex Hatters' boss Brabin acquitted of assault

EX-LUTON Town manager Gary Brabin has been acquitted of assaulting two members of York City security staff, but was found guilty of a public order offence.

The former Hatters boss faced trial in Selby Magistrates' Court following an allegation that he had assaulted two stewards during a football match between York City and Luton Town in April 2011.

Brabin had been accused of head butting and elbowing two stewards after they had forcibly removed him from the technical area following his protest at the manner in which his players were being treated during the game.

However, he was found guilty of a public order offence after it was alleged that he used threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour.

Brabin was represented by Brian O'Neill QC in court and his solicitor was Tayab Ali, partner at Irvine Thanvi Natas solicitors.

Tayab Ali said: "Gary is very pleased that the District Judge was able to see that he had not assaulted the security staff and that their accounts of what happened were untrue."

Brabin is considering an appeal of the public order decision.

Finance chief hits back at criticism over rising debt

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON council's portfolio holder for finance has hit back at criticisms against the authority's debt.

Last week, Luton on Sunday revealed that Luton Borough Council's debt had gone up by £120 million in two years.

Cllr Robin Harris says that 'prudent borrowing' is boosting the town's economy after claims by opposition leader Cllr David Franks that the council was 'not managing it [the debt] properly'.

Recent investments include £25.7 million in 2010/11 for the Inspire Luton Sports Village, and £89.4 million which the council was required to pay the Government in 2011/12 as part of the ending of the housing subsidy system and the move to self-financing for council housing.

Cllr Harris (pictured) said: "The well-managed investments we are making will deliver real benefits to the people of Luton. Our prudential borrowing is planned against income we know is coming in through the success of the airport which represents this town's single biggest asset.

"Importantly, we are now able to make a start rejuvenating Luton's housing stock at best value.

"We are also investing in the Inspire Luton Sports Village as an important part of our work to improve general health and tackle growing levels of obesity, particularly among young people. This also enables us to save money on potentially expensive costs maintaining ageing facilities."

The council has independently-appointed private sector external auditors who assess its spending and financial planning, ensuring that its approach to borrowing and investments are rigorously reviewed.

Cllr Harris said: "These safeguarding measures ensure that our prudential borrowing delivers tangible and lasting benefits for the people of Luton."

He added: "We are also committed to investing in major enhancements to Luton's infrastructure, including much-needed improvements to M1 Junction 10a and the long-awaited completion of the inner ring road that will help attract new business, jobs and housing to our town."

MAN DUE IN COURT

A MAN has been charged with perverting the course of justice.

Edward Stewart, 20, of Linden Court, Houghton Regis was charged with the offence on direction of the Crown Prosecution Service.

He will appear at Luton Magistrates' Court on June 11.

ROBBERY CHARGES

TWO men have been charged with an incident which happened in the car park at Papa John's Pizza on Marsh Road.

Nicholas Mitchell, 42, from London, and Mohammed Parvaiz Kahn, 27, from St Ethelberts Avenue, Luton, were charged with robbery and possession of an imitation firearm.

The pair have been remanded in custody and the case has been sent to Crown Court.

SMUGGLING ARREST

A 40-YEAR-OLD Luton man has been arrested as part of a multi-million pound investigation into cigarette and drug smuggling.

It was part of a joint operation between HMRC and the Border Force in which a Luton property was searched.

CASH FOR COUNCIL

CENTRAL Bedfordshire Council has been awarded £4.9 million of government funding to help deliver sustainable transport in and around Dunstable, Houghton Regis and Leighton Buzzard.

The three-year scheme will fund improvements to walking, cycling and public transport infrastructure by increasing travel choices for residents and businesses.

In turn it is hoped this will reduce car use in town centres and cut personal travel costs.

Cllr Nigel Young said: "This is excellent news for the local communities, and is part of a much bigger vision to boost economic activity and growth in these areas."

Cops retained body parts for 20 years

POLICE have kept human tissue samples, including major organs and limbs from victims of murder or homicide, for almost 20 years.

It was found that Bedfordshire Police held 16 samples of organs and limbs from previous investigations into sudden, unexplained or suspicious deaths wrongly assuming they had been disposed of by the medical profession.

A national report published by the Association of Chief Police Officers and the National Policing Improvement Agency revealed on Monday that police forces across the country still retained human tissue from as far back as the 1960s including brains, hearts and major limbs.

Often the families of the victims had no idea samples had been kept until after the audit had taken place.

Detective superintendent Mick Hanlon, the senior investigating officer in charge of the audits by Bedfordshire Police and Hertfordshire Constabulary said: "Understandably this is an extremely sensitive and emotive issue and our priority from the outset has been to those families involved.

"All of the families that we engaged with have had their wishes met in relation to how they have wanted their loved one's remains to be dealt with."

Dad: I won't send my 'bullied' son to school

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FATHER is ready to go to court to battle a fine given to him by the council for taking his child out of school to avoid being bullied.

Mark Hine, 33, decided to keep his ten-year-old son Maison at home claiming he was being picked on at King's Houghton Middle School in Parkside Drive, Houghton Regis.

Now, Central Bedfordshire Council have issued him with a £50 fine for 11 unauthorised absences. But Mr Hine, of Bromley Gardens, says he will not send his child to a school where he claims he is being bullied.

He said: "I would rather go to court than send my son to a school where he will be bullied. I will not do that to him. I have spoken to the council and the school about what has been happening to Maison and the reason he is not at school but nobody wants to listen to what the problem is.

"I want them to listen to what has been going on and do something about it. Maison was a perfect student at lower school and won the headteacher's award

Mark Hine with his son Maison

King's Houghton Middle School, said: "We do everything possible to ensure that our pupils have a good attendance record, enjoy their time at school and are safe. Where attendance concerns arise, we work to support both pupils and parents to find the right approach to get children back into school.

"We treat any allegations of bullying very seriously and have stringent policies and procedures in place to guard against it and to ensure that our school is a safe and positive learning environment."

Executive member for children's services at Central Bedfordshire Council, Cllr Mark Versallion, said: "The council is unable to comment on individual cases. Our overriding concern is to protect children's entitlement to education.

"We would always prefer to take positive action, working with schools and offering support and advice to parents, to remedy a situation quickly in the interests of the child.

"If parents then don't make serious and sustained efforts to improve their child's attendance then we will do whatever we need to, including issuing fixed penalty notices, to protect a child's right to education."

It is believed the victim was set upon by two men at 11.15am on Friday in Peel Street, Luton, before staggering to nearby Wellington Street.

'Excess' of Hatters fans cause chaos at station

BY ADAM THOMPSON
 editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A RAIL firm has come under fire after British Transport Police (BTP) officers had to be drafted in at a train station as thousands of football supporters returned home from Wembley.

Masses of Luton Town fans descended on West Hampstead train station – which is run by First Capital Connect (FCC) – after their team's defeat by York City in last Sunday's Conference Premier play-off final.

But despite high profile reports saying 30,000 fans would attend the West London venue from Bedfordshire, FCC failed to put on a special football service and responded by rolling out eight-carriage trains – some already packed with passengers travelling from St Pancras – rather than the 12-carriage trains used on weekdays.

This meant thousands of fans were left waiting for hours at the station with BTP called in to help deal with the numbers who spilled out the building and along the adjacent road.

Eye-witnesses reported crushes and that around 300-400 fans were on the platform at one time as officers tried to get them on to already overflowing trains. BTP said that they had to be drafted in as there was a 'problem with overcrowding' and admitted the train station is 'not big enough' to deal with that many people.

The incident raises doubts over how FCC will deal with masses expected to be travelling into the capital for this summer's Olympic Games. The rail company has also dismissed any review into last Sunday's events.

Roger Perkins, a spokesman for FCC, said: "We ran four trains an hour on Sunday from West Hampstead fast to St Albans and then Harpenden, Luton Airport Parkway and Luton. Two of these an hour were eight-carriages long as in the normal timetable; the other two were lengthened from four carriages to eight for the game.

"We have to maintain much of our train fleet at the weekend to ensure we have enough rolling stock ready for the weekday rush-hour service and we don't have enough spare carriages available to lengthen trains beyond eight carriages and achieve this.

"We consider all big events that can impact the number of people using our services, this is why we lengthened some services on Sunday. We are not carrying out a review of Sunday's events.

"During the Olympics, we will be lengthening late night services on the Thameslink route and Network Rail will ensure that only very minor maintenance activities occur to reduce the likelihood of disruption."

Simon Lubin of British Transport Police added: "We were called to West Hampstead train station as it was overcrowded.

"That station is not big enough to deal with that many people and it was a problem. We had to send some extra officers out there because there was overcrowding in the station and also in the public house opposite."

Rise in racist incidents

RACIST incidents in schools has increased by more than 40 per cent.

According to statistics reported cases of racist bullying rose dramatically in Luton between 2007 to 2010. A racist incident is defined as any situation perceived to be racist by the victim or any other person.

Following the inquiry into the murder of teenager Stephen Lawrence, the previous Government said schools in England and Wales must monitor and report all incidents of racist abuse to their local authority. However, the coalition government has changed that guidance and schools now have no duty to record and report the data.

But a spokesman for Luton Borough Council said: "The figures indicate a rise on reported incidents, not necessarily an increase in incidents.

"Schools have a range of strategies in place to deal with racism when it occurs, importantly they also work successfully to prevent it through for example Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education (PSHE) lessons and one to one tutoring. Ofsted inspections of Luton schools invariably acknowledge harmony between the diverse pupil population."

Spotlight on patient lists

DOCTORS were paid for illegal immigrants who were registered on their patient lists, a report has found.

More than 120 immigrants whose asylum status had been rejected by the Home Office were found to be registered on GP patient lists throughout Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire after the Audit Commission launched an initiative from 2009 to 2010 aimed at identifying people registered at more than one practice. The report by the National Duplicate Registration Initiative also found that GPs were still receiving payments for 37 patients in the two counties despite them having died.

Tony Medwell, NHS Bedfordshire Head of Primary Care Commissioning, said: "We continually work with our GP practices and the Practitioner Services Unit to keep patient records as up to date as possible.

"Our practices generally manage their patient lists well. However, with hundreds of thousands of patient records in Bedfordshire alone, we do find a small number which, due to a number of reasons, need to be removed or updated."

Uni's English faculty makes 'amazing' leap

THE University of Bedfordshire has jumped 59 places in The Guardian's University Guide 2013's league table for English.

It has been ranked 43rd out of 102 in a table published in the newspaper and online.

The university appears in 15 subject tables and is in a higher position in seven. Its ranking for education has improved from 63 out of 75 last year to 27 out of 75 this year.

Professor Helen Bailey, head of Performing Arts and English, said: "We increased the number of staff and ensured they were more research focused. Both existing and new staff channelled extra time to the support of students."

Vice Chancellor Professor Les Ebdon added: "This is an amazing achievement. Congratulations to Helen Bailey and the division of Performing Arts and English."

Station's future is under threat

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

DUNSTABLE Police Station may close as part of an ongoing review of Bedfordshire Police's buildings.

The force are considering shutting the West Street station, where the South CID unit, the local policing and response team are based, in light of the funding cuts imposed by the Government.

Councillors on the county's policing watchdog, Bedfordshire Police Authority, have even questioned why new CCTV has been put in at the station, which opened more than 30 years ago, following 'further speculation' on the possible closure.

In the minutes of the authority's resources scrutiny committee meeting on April 26 it says: 'Members understood that there had been further speculation that Dunstable Police Station may close and questioned why there had been investment in CCTV in the custody cells if this was the case.'

'The Deputy Chief Constable responded that this was still early thoughts in the estates review process and changes may take place over a period of time and therefore the Force had adopted a business as usual approach to the CCTV project.'

'Members expressed some caution to be taken in how the communication around this was to be handled given that over a number of years Dunstable Police Station had been the subject of possible closure.'

The estates review process began in October last year and is 'ongoing'.

A Bedfordshire Police spokesman said:

"Like all forces around the UK, we are looking at how to maintain front line services while having funding reduced by 20 per cent and as a result we have to consider a number of cost saving measures as part of an on-going financial review."

"All areas of the service are being looked at within this review and all options of how to cope with the 20 per cent reduction - which works out at approximately £20 million over a four year period - are being explored and considered but absolutely no decisions have been made as yet."

"What is paramount is that residents in Bedfordshire understand that our priority is to protect front line policing but we do have to be realistic about the economic situation and consider reconciling particular parts of the Force - estates included - to deal with loss of funding."

Police authority chairman Peter Conniff said: "The future of Dunstable Police Station is, along with all other police properties, under active current review so as to provide the best possible value for money in view of the austerity cuts."

"We've got £20 million to save over the next four years, which is a huge ask for a small force like ours. We're on track, but if the figures change then everything will be under review even more."

Jobs to go as party store set to shut its doors

ELEVEN staff will lose their jobs by Thursday as a fancy dress store is forced to close.

Pure Party in The Mall Luton is a subsidiary of Clinton Cards which went into administration last week.

Administrators Zolfo Cooper announced on Wednesday that the Luton store was one of the shops which were facing 'imminent closure'.

It is not yet clear what will happen to the Clinton Cards in Luton and Dunstable - where another 26 people are currently employed - but an announcement is expected over the coming weeks.

Peter Saville, Joint Administrator and Partner at Zolfo Cooper said: "We are fully aware of the impact these closures will have and are working with a number of relevant agencies and third parties to assist employees affected by the store closures."

Passenger figures won't hit 30m 'for time being'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutonsunday.co.uk

PLANS to expand Luton Airport to fly 30 million passengers a year are not being pursued at the moment, according to the airport operator.

Hertfordshire County Council (HCC) councillors said this week they were 'shocked' to discover the potential planning application to triple passenger numbers, which they said was expected to be submitted by late next year.

Previous discussions between Luton Borough Council and operator London Luton Airport Operations Limited (LLAL) had been looking at increasing passengers to 16-18m.

But local authorities in Hertfordshire close to the airport say that they have discovered the owner of the airport has been in discussions with the Planning Inspectorate (an agency of the government) for expansion of an annual capacity of the airport to 30m.

A LLAL spokesperson said: "In considering future opportunities for London Luton Airport, LLAL has looked at a number of alternative development scenarios and have been completely open about this."

"These have included expanding the airport to make best use of the runway capacity that the Government identified in the Future of Aviation White Paper as being up to 30m. At present, LLAL is concentrating upon the 18m futureLuToN:Optimisation project.

"This means that a 30m project is not being pursued for the time being. If this were ever to be pursued the proposal would have to be subject to the rigorous environmental impact assessment processes and public consultation."

HCC Councillor Robert Gordon said: "Local authorities and communities alike are worried at the speed with which even the current proposals to expand capacity up to 18m are being progressed, but have engaged in the consultations and await any planning application in good faith."

"I am shocked to discover that even before the recent public consultations had taken place the owner of the airport has already been in discussion with the Planning Inspectorate about submitting a planning application to it to expand the airport up to 30m as early as next year."

"I can only imagine the distress this news is going to cause to local communities and action groups."

Upset over comments

SIR - I take issue with Cllr Richard Stay's final comment regarding the question of gay marriage.

You have quoted him as stating 'it is a perfectly reasonable position to hold which provides a safe place to bring up children' - this implies that children brought up by gay couples are ipso facto not brought up in a safe place.

What is he saying about gay couples? At best his words are ill-advised. At worst they are bigoted and frankly inexcusable.

This is not the comment of a 'reasonable tolerant person'.

It is a good thing that he will not have the opportunity to express his views in Parliament.

Questions for Cllr Stay

SIR - Last week there were comments put forward by Cllr Richard Stay about marriage that has left me with the conclusion that he is a fake.

I didn't know until recently that he is a Luton Conservative and after visiting their website I can confirm that this is true.

Avid Luton on Sunday readers will note that he persistently courts publicity, but when challenged he runs for cover. I recall an example of this when a campaigner against houses to the north of Luton wrote and publicly challenged Cllr Stay to confirm where the money was for roads that he was supporting.

The response was silence and my letter is, likewise a challenge to this Luton Conservative to see if he is fake or real? From previous articles and his carefully presented photographs my impression of Cllr Stay is of a pre-war colonist of the empire.

Someone more fitted to an outpost in India or Ireland, rather than modern day Government.

Rifle in hand, dead tiger in the other... My challenge to Cllr Stay is to prove he is not someone who should be emblazoned with the word fake by answering two questions, put straightforwardly my hunch against his integrity.

Question 1 - From what you have presented to the press I am willing to bet anything that you are like Jordan and have been married several times. Someone with psychological traits that regularly manifest themselves in previous articles cannot be anything else, please confirm if this is true, how many times you have signed the register, and if my hunch is correct please explain why you feel you have the right to lecture anyone on the virtues of marriage?

Question 2 - Anyone with a normal day to day job would not communicate the way Cllr Stay does.

Like any colonist I am convinced that he lives well, has a cushy, well paid job and is a cog of the big commercial establishment?

I hope my public challenge of integrity is answered and that readers can see who is fake and who is real. Two straightforward, easy-to-answer questions are Cllr Stay's opportunity to prove his integrity and to disprove my theory that he is a fake and a serial shirker. Answers on a postcard please?

'Our doctors and nurses do a world class job'

SIR - So it's open season on our local hospital again is it?

A patient's communicator was put out of her reach and this warrants a complaint to the local press who choose to give the case prime position on its front page.

I have every sympathy with the lady and her partner because it must have been very distressing to feel helpless and isolated but I do feel the matter should be seen in context.

It has become fashionable to knock the NHS in general and our local L&D in particular but I do wish the critics would stop and think before trying to make a big thing out of every little mistake and oversight.

Think of the effect on staff morale when they see nothing but criticism every time they open their newspapers.

These are the highly trained and dedicated people who are often doing work that most of us would run a mile to avoid even if we were bright enough to undertake the training in the first place.

Our NHS is the envy of the world. It is also one of the most complex systems in the world.

Unfortunately complexity

Cos Bocchino who featured on last week's front page always has the hand-aiden called 'error'. The more complex, the more errors. It's a seemingly inescapable law of physics.

Hospitals aren't like factories where there's a steady flow of work coming in and passing through. No.

People (that's you and me) are most unreasonable because we get ill or injured at the most inconvenient and unpredictable times.

So unless hospitals have loads of spare staff (in your dreams) just sitting idly around waiting for an emergency to 'crop up' there are bound to be interruptions to the 'routine work' and wards will suddenly become understaffed because nurses and doctors will be required to be in two places at once.

Having lived in Luton all my life I've had cause to visit the L&D quite a few times, sometimes for routine stuff and a couple of times for emergencies.

My experience on every occasion has been absolutely five star. Staff were caring, attentive, efficient and thoroughly professional.

On each occasion I was left wondering how my visit could possibly have been better if I'd gone 'private'.

Our evil Government seems hell-bent on destroying the NHS, and every move it makes further damages the morale of the minor gods who work in the service.

Please don't make life even worse for them by trumpeting to the world every little slip-up they make.

They are doing a world class job under increasingly burdensome conditions.

Not as long to wait. . .

SIR - Without wishing to boast, or reveal an ability to know Mr Cameron's mind, I should like to advise Anthony Lawrence (LoS Letters, May 20), who is apparently unaware of the date of the next election, that it is now only too easy to know such a date.

I am pleased to be able to reveal to Anthony and others who are not already aware that the election will be held on May 7, 2015.

How am I privy to such privileged information?

Well, unfortunately, my ability to see into the future, and my ability to know David Cameron's mind are not so great, but my ability to understand the Fixed-Term Parliaments Act, which was passed into law in 2011, is sufficient.

Under the provisions of the Act, Parliamentary elections must be held every five years, beginning in 2015; this new law now restricts a Prime Minister's ability to advise the Queen to call an early election as a political tactic, as was previously the case, although there are certain situations that allow for an earlier dissolution.

So in reference to Anthony Lawrence's particular gripe with John Tucker, he will have to wait just under another three years to see John's name appear on a list of parliamentary candidates.

Geoffrey Blake
Brampton Rise,

Greed is out of control

SIR - The reason why this country will never recover from recession, the bankers crisis, or deficit cuts, is the same reason as to why we got into this mess in the first place.

Greed. People are obsessed with greed. The Government wants management to work harder.

If they do, it will be to line their own pockets.

British business and its bosses don't care about the prosperity of the country. They're only in it to make themselves filthy rich. They have parts made abroad, because of cheap foreign labour. Got to keep the costs down.

They say that British workers are lazy. The truth is, they prefer foreign workers that they can exploit. If you want to put the Great, back into Great Britain, don't rely on British business.

You don't bite the hand that feeds you. British business will chow the country's right off. It's greed. It's out of control.

Have pride in your homes

SIR - As a tenant of LBC for more than 30 years on the Farley Hill, I have noticed the recent decline of the estate and I was led to believe that as a tenant it is our responsibility to keep the property and gardens clean and tidy.

I realise that now the council does not do checks on this anymore and it shows when I drive through the estate. A lot of people keep their properties up to standard but the few that treat their homes as slums should be brought in line with the rest of this estate.

Youngsters' great music

SIR - I was visiting friends in Luton last Sunday, browsing through your paper I was faced with news on community angst and sad situations. Luckily, in the afternoon I attended a concert by the Luton Music Service.

It was brilliant, talented young musicians from the Luton area. A real positive experience. Well done Luton, if The Wanted or Olly Murs are looking for warm-up acts for the Love Luton Festival I suggest they go no further.

Think of the animals

SIR - With the recent arrival of hot weather, we should be reminded that animals suffer and die when temperatures rise.

Dogs die very quickly in hot cars and they should not be left inside them even for short periods.

Opening a window an inch is not sufficient.

Other animals suffer, too. Rabbits must not be left in a hutch in the glaring sun or inside a sweltering garage or shed.

They need a cool, shady place where the air circulates, and where they are able to move freely.

A hot rabbit can be kept cool by applying cold water gently to his ears.

Should your rabbit become listless, or start breathing hard through an open mouth or go limp, get him to a vet immediately.

Rabbits must also be checked daily throughout summer months for signs of flystrike.

Smaller animals, like hamsters, rats and gerbils, can be kept cool by opening windows and closing curtains, using a fan (but not pointing it directly at them), refreshing water and providing a frozen water bottle, wrapped in a towel so that it cannot be chewed.

Ring road row erupts

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A ROW has broken out over the proposed route for the £24million inner ring road scheme in Luton.

The project moved a step forward this week after Transport Secretary Justine Greening approved the compulsory purchase orders required by Luton Borough Council.

The Town Hall's Liberal Democrat group leader, David Franks (pictured), has criticised the choice of route, suggesting the council have chosen the cheaper 'red' route, over the 'green' route which he believes would be more effective - but is also more expensive to implement.

The red route includes placing a signal controlled junction between Crescent Road and Crawley Green Road, and turning the road from the new junction to St Mary's roundabout into a dual carriageway.

This contrasts to the green route plan, which would have seen a completely new road being created between Crescent Road and St Mary's roundabout which would have bypassed Crawley Green road completely.

Cllr Franks said: "This problem simply is that the council has gone for the cheap option, which is the red route. "The Executive report, which was compiled by traffic engineers, said the green route was better environmentally, would have a capacity to carry more traffic and would cause less noise but would cost more."

However, Labour Cllr Sian Timoney said the scheme could help attract a £1.5bn investment package to Luton, delivering around 11,000 new jobs and up to 4,000 new homes.

She said: "The council was asked to consider two alternative routes for the proposed road - named the red route and the green route. The green route was £6m more expensive than the route the council decided to adopt. The benefits of the green route were very marginal over the other proposal.

"As a Labour council, when we are spending taxpayers' money we are prudent and the extra £6m could not be justified. When Cllr Franks ran Luton council, money was poured down the drain and the council tax shot up - I think we can see why."

Subject to final confirmation of funding by the Department for Transport, work which is expected to take 18 months could now start by late 2013 with completion by early 2015.

THERE is a profession, or more accurately a trade, that has been letting its audience down lately. It is journalists and I am not talking phone hacking.

Two stories last week needed context and explanation but received little more than repeating the Establishment view.

First the issue of Somali pirates. I know I do not venture into foreign policy very often but am beginning to feel like a Prime Minister in his second term. Anyway it was announced last week that the EU was sending military ships to bomb the bases in Somalia of those who attack shipping off the Horn of Africa. An explanation of these pirates was given, including by the BBC, which drew them as thieves and vagabonds who just attacked this shipping for financial gain.

A little historical context would have painted a different picture. Somalia suffered two major famines in the 1980s, as well as continued war.

Many Somalis headed off to the coast, to join the fishermen already there. They fished the sea off the Horn of Africa, just for food for their families.

However, the loss of any legitimate government in Somalia made it impossible for them to protect their waters. Along came international fishing trawlers, no longer hampered by any laws, to pillage this vast resource of fish.

The Somali fishermen's boats were routinely destroyed and their fishermen killed, sometimes by having boiling water poured over them.

A United Nations report said that, in the absence of the country's at one time serviceable coastguard, Somali waters have become the site of an international "free for all," with fishing fleets from around the world illegally plundering Somali stocks and preventing the local fishermen from having their paltry catch.

Beyond illegal fishing, foreign ships have also long been accused by local fishermen of dumping toxic and nuclear waste off Somalia's shores.

These trawlers came from far and wide, including the EU. Strict quotas exist in EU waters, of course, but can be completely ignored by those fishing in the Indian ocean. These trawlers have nets as huge as seven miles wide, and catch and kill everything in the sea. The Somali fishermen fought back, some by becoming pirates. Now I know two wrongs do not make a right but these people were only trying to feed their families in a sustainable way, rather than completely pillage and ultimately destroy one of the richest seas in the world for fish.

The need to go behind the story to the bigger picture

But I never saw this mentioned in any news report on how the EU was defending shipping against these evil men, rather than what it was really doing which was protecting law breaking super trawlers so we can eat cheap fish.

Similarly, and closer to home, with regard to Greece, the whole story is being hidden, out of either convenience or laziness.

Recent articles, again including those by the BBC, discussed the recent election and the next one. The BBC reported how a neo-Nazi party gained some five per cent of the vote but fails to even mention that Syriza, a left wing coalition party, gained ten per cent and may get a lot more in the next election.

Elsewhere it is described as supporting voodoo economics. This is by journalists, not opposition MPs.

If Syriza increases its support, it just may be because it recognises that the Greek people are suffering hugely, that a humanitarian crisis may be looming on Europe's doorstep and that all the other parties, within Greece and without, offer is more pain. A solution needs to be found that does not lead to mass unemployment and soup kitchens, because that is no solution at all.

The Keynesian alternative, of sustainable growth, offered by Syriza, may not be the new orthodoxy and may not be correct. But it is a serious alternative and should be considered as such. It also happens to have a better track record of creating economic recovery than the IMF and its monetarist friends.

Partner left lifting disabled man after ramp bid rejected

lui.straccia@lutonsonSunday.co.uk

A DISABLED man has been refused a ramp to help get him in and out of his front door, hindering his rehabilitation efforts.

Shafqat Ali has been denied a grant for work at his council house in High Ridge, Luton, because of the 'confines of the site', even though his next door neighbour had one put in.

Luton Borough Council said a 'change in the national building regulations' means the 53-year-old, who suffered severe brain damage after a heart attack at the wheel of his car 12 months ago, cannot have the ramp put in. Mr Ali now has to be carried through the door by long-term partner Deirdre McConville.

Mr Ali was 'technically dead' for at least 15 minutes after his road accident before finally being resuscitated, but woke up in hospital unable to speak or move.

Shafqat Ali and Deirdre McConville

He can now hold full conversations, but still needs full time care and has major mobility issues, for which he attends two rehab sessions a week to aid his recovery.

Mr Ali said: "If the council would help me a bit more, maybe I'd even be walking now. I've got this far, now I need more help to walk.

"My dream is to walk about, to do things for myself. I can eat certain things myself, but I want to get better.

"The only thing I want is a ramp - but we were told the council couldn't do it."

Miss McConville, 52, said: "It's been a miraculous recovery so far - we want it to go on and need this ramp."

A council spokeswoman said: "A change in the national building regulations means we are legally unable to install a ramp outside Mr Ali's property.

"In difficult cases like this, particularly where the inside of the house also needs significant adaptations too to help Mr Ali and his partner, the standard procedure is for a housing officer to visit to explore the best way forward and discuss available options as soon as possible, and we understand this will be happening shortly."

A SHOP owner has been fined for failing to tell the council how he was disposing of waste.

After Luton Borough Council Enforcement Officers carried out a routine inspection of Express News in High Town Road, Luton, last July, owner Farooq

Shopkeeper fined over waste

Hussein was asked to provide documentation to show how his business had been disposing of its waste.

When he failed to produce appropriate waste transfer paperwork, he was served a Fixed Penalty Notice which he then failed to pay.

At Luton Magistrates' Court, Hussein pleaded guilty to failing to provide proper waste transfer notes for his business waste.

Magistrates fined Hussein £300, plus a £15 victim surcharge and ordered him to pay £300 towards the prosecution costs.

Women are the driving

IF someone told you they were going to let more than 100 women loose driving fire engines, heavy goods vehicles (HGVs) and digging machinery, would you think they were mad, or just incredibly trusting?

Well perhaps they are both, but officers and volunteers from Bedfordshire and Luton Fire and Rescue Service (BLFRS) and Cambridgeshire Fire Service gave up their weekend to hold a women only driving challenge in order to raise money for the Fire Fighters Charity which helps thousands of officers recover from injury each year.

I headed to Alconbury Airfield near Huntingdon, Cambs, to take part in the challenge which involved around 120 women driving and manoeuvring a number of large vehicles including an ASDA HGV, a fire engine, quad bikes, diggers, a skid pan and a moon buggy.

You could even have a go at driving a coach.

As I jumped into a small JCB digger I was a little apprehensive about my ability to control any kind of machinery which didn't involve just turning a key and whacking it into drive.

However, my guide, Tim, one of more than 60 volunteers on the day, showed me the controls and soon enough I was well away picking up tyres and putting them down again on top of another stack.

Sounds simple but oddly enough it takes a bit of precision to get it right. Later on when I

WOMEN from Bedfordshire and Cambridgeshire took part in a Ladies Driving Challenge last weekend to raise money for the Fire Fighters' Charity. Reporter KATHRYN CAIN got behind the wheel to find out what the event was all about.

BoS reporter Kathryn Cain behind the wheel of a fire engine finally got behind the wheel of a fire engine, the part I'd been looking forward to all day, it was absolutely exhilarating and as I sped around the runway at around 60mph, blue lights flashing, it was almost as if I were tearing off to a real emergency.

I have to admit, upon first seeing the engines and the HGVs I was at the very least concerned and at the most terrified of the prospect of solely being in control of vehicles weighing several tonnes. But when it came to it I am told I was quite confident and handled some of the largest lorries with great control. This is what the day was all about - giving women the chance to take part in something most people will never have the opportunity to do in their lifetime and all for a good cause.

Group commander Andy Peckham from BLFRS explained how the event was set up and what the Fire Fighters' Charity does for injured officers.

He said: "This is only the second year we have held this challenge here but around five similar events are held around the country each year and it is a great opportunity to raise funds for the Charity. Therapy programmes for injured officers, such as those who have suffered a back injury while on duty, can cost up to £1,000 per week and there can be high costs for the support service and experts who provide assistance with complications.

"It is important to hold events like this but it can be difficult to find the time for fundraising outside of all the other duties officers have.

"Holding big fundraisers helps to raise more than some of the smaller events we stage and it is only one day out of everyone's time. We understand people are feeling stretched but we have a huge number of ladies who came who have all given their time and money and we are hoping to raise about £10,000."

According to Andy, many of the costs involved in running the Driving Challenge were kept to a minimum as the charity was given the use of the airfield for free and many companies such as ASDA and Amey Cespa donated the use of their vehicles free of charge.

BLFRS and Cambridgeshire Fire Service also received help in the form of fire engines from Oxfordshire. I had a brilliant time trying out each of the vehicles and after speaking to some of the other women taking part, it was clear everyone else was having a great day too.

And despite the doubts of many men holding handbags throughout the day, no vehicles were damaged or parked at dodgy angles. It is a testament to women drivers, and to the organisers that the day was such a success.

Simon says he will keep hold of torch

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN Olympic torchbearer has said that he is 'disappointed' with the amount of the torches that are already being sold on auction website eBay.

Cystic Fibrosis sufferer, Simon Stothard (pictured), 29, of Langdale Road, Dunstable, is due to carry the flame through Luton on Sunday, July 8.

The prolific fundraiser, who raises money for the charity Cystic Fibrosis Trust, said: "It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and I can't imagine selling my torch.

"I bought my torch for £200, which was pricey, but I'm hoping that it will be kept as an heirloom and will be passed through the generations of my family.

"The amounts of money that torches are rumoured to be selling for are tempting, but it is the urgency with which people are selling them that is quite disappointing. "Most people haven't even run their sections of the route yet.

"I could understand it a couple of years down the line if someone was desperate for the money, or the cash was being used for charity - I think the only way I'd sell mine is to fund an event like running a marathon abroad."

Simon added that he is excited but nervous of the prospect of carrying the flame as the day approaches.

He said: "It's something that I'm trying not to think about at the moment as it makes me very nervous.

"I'm still waiting for my training to come through so I know what to do if the flame goes out or someone jumps out in front of it, maybe once I've done that my nerves will settle.

"Right now my focus is on cycling from John O'Groats to Lands End in nine days, which is the challenge I've set myself to do before the torch event."

Zoo's mischievous marmosets

IT'S access all areas for these silvery marmosets at Whipsnade Zoo as they've become the latest animals allowed to roam freely around the park.

Up until now the close-knit family of seven, which includes Choc and Chip and Humbug and Mint, have lived in their wooden enclosure in the middle of the zoo. But they now join mara, wallabies and muntjac deer which have access to much of the zoo's 600 acres and can be seen all over the park.

The mischievous marmosets have already been spotted enjoying themselves clambering onto the roof of their enclosure, playing on fences and running along rope branches and, as the weather becomes warmer, the family will increasingly be found in the trees above visitors' heads.

Senior keeper, Steve Perry, said: "It's a whole new world for them - they are free to go wherever they like and are enjoying themselves foraging."

Concerns over 'rat problem'

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A BUSINESSMAN has complained that Luton council is not doing enough to deal with a 'rat problem' in the town.

David Westcott, who owns the Property Shop, among others businesses, in Park Street, Luton, claims he has seen growing numbers of the vermin appearing in Luton town centre.

He believes it is making the town an 'unattractive' place and it needs to be dealt with.

Mr Westcott said: "It seems to have got gradually worse. They are scurrying about everywhere; you can see them close to the entrance of the shopping centre and it is really off-putting."

"The council needs to get rid of them quickly."

A spokeswoman for Luton Borough Council said: "It is not unusual for a busy area like this with lots of food premises nearby to suffer from a rodent problem."

"When people drop unwanted food and litter on the ground, they are providing a constant source of food for the rodents."

"This is an issue in similar areas across the country. Our Pest Control team is carrying out a programme of baiting in the area, regularly inspecting and replenishing bait as required and carefully monitoring the situation.

"We have also removed the old planters from George Street which will stop the vermin using them for shelter and breeding purposes."

Thefts on the up

THERE has been a rise of thefts from vehicles in the west of Luton.

Police are now warning drivers to remove all valuables from their vehicles when parking in the area after an increase in thefts of mobile phones and satellite navigation equipment from cars and vans.

On average seven incidents per week have happened in Leagrave, Lewsey, south Lewsey, and north Challney areas where vehicles have been left insecure or doors have been forced.

Aldwyck's giving something back

STAFF from a housing group worked on projects to improve the community.

Employees of Houghton Regis-based Aldwyck took part in Give & Gain Day, the only global day of employee volunteering organised by Business in the Community.

This year included digging a vegetable patch for the residents at a supported housing scheme in Marshall Road, Luton.

This will provide residents with not only access to free herbs and vegetables but will also be used as a valuable learning tool for residents.

Other projects included litter picking, clearing alleyways and painting a communal room at a home for young people.

In total more than 250 staff hours have been donated by Aldwyck to volunteer on community projects to improve the lives of their customers and other residents.

Give & Gain Day managed by Business in the Community is the UK's only national day of action for employee volunteers, who will give their time and skills to hundreds of community projects.

Boost for property agents

Alex Gibbon and Ian Harvey

GROWING demand from landlords and potential tenants has prompted estate agents Harrison Murray to extend its lettings service.

Harrison Murray already has a lettings service in Leicestershire, Northamptonshire and Cambridgeshire, and demand has now seen this being expanded to cover the Bedford and Luton areas – offering a 'professional service in a buoyant market place'.

Heading up the service is Alex Gibbon, who has joined the Harrison Murray team as lettings co-ordinator with responsibility for Bedfordshire.

Alex said: "The lettings service has been established to meet demand in the area, both from landlords looking to let out their property in a professional and reliable manner as well as from tenants seeking security and peace of mind when looking for somewhere to rent."

Harrison Murray's lettings service offers full property management and rent collection services, but also includes a tenant-find-only service. Alex and the teams from the Bedford and Bushmead offices are now planning to set up an inaugural open evening inviting landlords.

Harrison Murray development director Jackie Scotten said: "We are delighted to welcome Alex to the team and are confident that his enthusiasm, professionalism and lettings experience will develop the service at a fast pace."

"From experience we have found that landlords prefer to use an accredited agent, which gives them increased confidence that their investment will be managed in a professional and responsible manner."

"As a member of the Association of Residential Lettings Agents (ARLA), Harrison Murray is delighted to offer an exceptional local service with the backing of our central lettings office in Leicester."

Harrison Murray Lettings is also a member of the Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS).

Council's survey to help traders

RESPONSES to a business survey has shown that 35 per cent have seen an improvement in the past year.

Luton Borough Council asked more than 250 businesses, of which 80 per cent were micro businesses, their views on issues.

Questions focused on training and skills, business performance, business support, broadband and innovation.

The survey also tried to gauge business views on the council's business engagement and how the town serves them as a business.

Key results include:

■ 42 per cent anticipate improvement in business performance in the next 12 months

■ 88 per cent are satisfied with the location of their business

■ 32 per cent have innovated in some way in the past 12 months

Cllr Sian Timoney, portfolio holder for Regeneration, said: "We are doing everything we can to support local businesses."

"These survey results are very encouraging, particularly in view of the UK's current financial climate. It's good to see businesses in Luton performing well with anticipation of business improvement really high."

Cllr Sian Timoney

The results will help the council to:

■ identify trends over the last three years and analyse local business performance

■ provide direction on what business support is needed by local businesses

■ help determine the priorities for economic development

■ help to focus resources towards the needs of businesses

The secret's out about great town

MORE than 50 people attended the Luton Business Grant Initiative awards evening to celebrate the success of the business start-up grants.

Luton is recognised as one of the top towns in the country for business growth.

In the last two years, 785 new businesses have set up.

During this time, Luton Borough Council has been providing small grants to encourage and support start-up businesses.

More than 80 businesses have been supported through the help of partner Wenta, with 73 new businesses created.

Mayor of Luton, Cllr Don Worthing, presented awards to those businesses successful in attaining a grant under the Business Grants Initiative to recognise their success and impact on the economy.

Cllr Roy Davis, portfolio holder for regeneration, said: "We've always said that Luton is a great town. It's great to see that our secret is out with so many successful local businesses really taking off."

Gavin O'Brian from Clearhead Media also provided tips and advice on continuing to grow a business with an in-depth insight on how his business benefited from support, its planned growth and how it has now started to employ more people.

Networking event planned

BEST Business Expo - the sales generation and business motivation events company - is bringing its popular concept to Luton.

The Expo is jointly sponsored by Luton Borough Council and Bedfordshire Chamber of Commerce and will showcase businesses at The Riverside in Gipsy Lane, Luton, on Thursday, June 14 from 10am to 1.45pm.

Speakers include Steve Clarke, one of the country's leading experts on grassroots sales and marketing strategies, and Luton's own Billy Schwer, the former world champion boxer and inspirational and motivational speaker.

The firm (follow it @BB_Expo on Twitter) provides businesses with the ideal environment to meet other businesses, potential clients and suppliers.

The day begins with the very popular networking breakfast sponsored by Bedfordshire Chamber of Commerce.

Steve will make the keynote address during the morning while Billy will round the day off with a talk about his fascinating career during the networking lunch.

Entry to the Expo itself is free although there is a small charge for the Networking Breakfast and Networking Lunch.

To register for the Expo and book tickets for the Networking Breakfast and Networking Lunch please click on this link www.bestbusinessexpo.co.uk/contact-bb-expo/ to the registration page.

For further information and to book an exhibition space contact Peter Donn at Best Business Expo at peter@bbexpo.co.uk or 07786 066501.

The Networking Breakfast, sponsored by Bedfordshire Chamber of Commerce, is at 8am-10am. Tickets cost £10 and include a full English breakfast.

The networking buffet lunch is at 2pm. Tickets cost £15 for exhibitors and £20 for delegates and guests.

Bid to help out uni graduates

LUTON council will be working together with the university to help improve businesses.

The plan is to bring like-minded businesses in the Creative and ICT sector together to encourage greater communication, cross-working and success.

A recent Creative Luton event at the University of Bedfordshire urged freelancers, agencies and businesses to come along and find out what support, resources and facilities are available.

Attendees also discovered how Luton is developing as a hub for creative businesses and how they can help identify priorities for the sector.

Luton Borough Cllr Roy Davis said: "Local businesses say they find it difficult to find the right skills, and are unaware of the types of skills University of Bedfordshire graduates offer."

"We have a new and shiny vision: we want to help businesses create a strong partnership with the University to take on skilled graduates, work on research projects, and help businesses access the University's facilities."

Les Ebdon, the university's vice chancellor, (pictured) said: "We are working on developing a virtual platform called the Creative Quarter, a business-led website to promote Luton's creative industries, allowing them to write fresh blogs and advertise jobs, contracts and freelancing opportunities."

To learn more or get involved, contact Sayma.khanom@luton.gov.uk or call her on 01582 546000.

Apprenticeship launch

MONARCH Aircraft Engineering Limited has announced the launch of its latest apprenticeship scheme for summer 2012, aimed at 16-18-year-olds.

The hugely successful project, which was first introduced 41 years ago, will take place at Luton Airport from August 28 and will welcome its 700th apprentice since it began in 1971.

Successful applicants will initially study for 17 weeks to gain an NVQ Level 2 Diploma in Performing Engineering Operations.

Upon completion of the NVQ there will be a number of places available to move onto the four year vocational scheme, which will provide practical training on aircraft mechanical systems by working alongside highly skilled mentors who are prepared to pass on their knowledge and experience.

The applicants, who are selected to advance onto the four year scheme, will also receive theory training on aircraft mechanical systems to the EASA 'A' licence standard and complete the various elements that make up the City and Guilds NVQ Level 3 Apprenticeship in Aeronautical Engineering.

Mick Adams, managing director at Monarch Aircraft Engineering Limited, said: "Being determined to maintain our position for being the best airline MRO in Europe and in order to support continued growth, Monarch Aircraft Engineering is delighted to announce the launch of its apprenticeship scheme for 2012 and welcome its 700th applicant."

DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS

How life has changed in the past 60 years

HM Queen Elizabeth

IT IS 60 years since HM Queen Elizabeth came to the throne and there have been many changes in Luton.

Going back to 1952 the world was still reeling from the effects of the Second World War and meat, sugar and sweets were still rationed in the UK.

In Luton the town was recovering from 24 air raids that had killed more than 100 people and injured more than 500 and there had been significant damage to buildings in the town.

But by 1952 the town was beginning to thrive again. Although the traditional hat making industry was in decline the Vauxhall Motor works was expanding and making models such as the Vauxhall Velux and the Bedford van.

After being used as a base for fighter squadrons in the war the airport was now being used once again for civil aircraft.

In 1952 a new control tower opened at Luton Airport, even if the airport buildings themselves were still a bit primitive. Luton Airport was to play a major role in the boom of the package holiday in the 1950s.

People were being entertained at the Grand Theatre on Waller Street and at the Gaumont Cinema on Mill Street and Luton Town Football Club were in Division 2, the equivalent of today's Championship League.

It was in February 1952 that the 56 year old King George VI died and was succeeded by his 25 year old daughter The Princess Elizabeth.

Married to the Duke of Edinburgh the Queen and Prince Philip often visited nearby Luton Hoo in the early years of their marriage to celebrate their wedding anniversaries after spending part of their honeymoon at the house in 1947.

Today we are in different times but Luton continues to thrive and is one of the fastest growing towns in Britain.

Vibrant and multi-cultural it has over the past 60 years welcomed generations of new people from across the world who have made their home in the town.

So whilst we raise a glass to celebrate this historic occasion

we should also raise it to the next 60 years and an exciting and successful future for Luton.

If you think you know what was happening in Luton in 1952 enter the Love Luton diamond Jubilee Competition to win two weekend tickets for the fantastic Love Luton Festival at Popes Meadow on July 6 and 7.

DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS

Parties in the streets and

THERE are plenty of things going on in Luton and Dunstable to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee. Here's a rundown of what's happening.

RESIDENTS in Luton and Dunstable have got into the Royal spirit, with events taking place to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee throughout the Bank Holiday weekend and beyond.

In Luton 19 street parties have been arranged, while 20 have been funded in Dunstable by Dunstable Town Council.

But if your road isn't holding a party, don't fear, there are plenty of events that have been organised throughout the area for families and people of all ages.

The weekend kicks off at Wardown Park Museum on Saturday between 10am and 4.30pm.

The event will include Royal crafts activities, cake and gift stalls and a recipe swap marquee where families can share their favourite family recipes. At Wigmore Library between 11-11.45am and Marsh Farm Library between 2.15-3pm children are invited to be a story telling and craft session, while at High Town Road from 2-5pm, a traditional family street party will be taking place.

A Jubilee Arts Celebration Day is also being held on Dunstable Downs between 11-5pm. Run in conjunction with the Beds Arts Network, the day will be used to encourage art, and will feature exhibitions, demonstrations and speakers. Next Sunday a Family Fun Day will be taking place at Farley Community Centre with face painting, a bouncy castle, and activities suitable for all ages.

On Bank Holiday Monday, June 4, The Stockwood Discovery Centre will be holding their Royal Jubilee Carriage Event between 11am and 4pm.

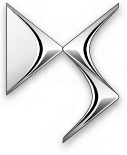

Throughout the day visitors will be able to take part in carriage and pony rides, browse craft and gift stalls, watch or take part in children's activities and there will also be a horse demonstration and show from Baylands Equestrian Centre.

While taking part in the carriage rides, there will be the opportunity to learn more about Stockwood Discovery Centre's collection of carriages, which make up The Mossman Collection.

The Garden Café will be open all day providing something tasty from, a range of drinks to light bites and lunches to suit any Royal appetite. On Tuesday, June 5, Bushmead Community Centre will be holding a Jubilee Playscheme Party full of fun other events are planned activities for children aged five to ten, while post Bank Holiday weekend, Raynham Way Community Centre will be holding an afternoon tea dance on Thursday, June 14 between 2-5pm.

Schools in Luton have also planned plenty of patriotic events for the pupils and their families to enjoy.

Warden Hill Junior School has planned a whole week of jubilee themed events which commence with a visit from the Lord Lieutenant on May 29, followed by an afternoon tea for parents and grandparents, country dancing, and fancy dress competitions.

The Meads Primary School will be celebrating the Diamond Jubilee as well as their 50th birthday on Thursday.

All children and staff will be dressing in 1950s style clothes and having packed lunches on the school field, before playing old fashioned games including quoits, hopscotch and sack races.

Dallow Primary School will be holding 'The Big Picnic' also on Thursday. Competitions for crown making, best laid table, and best decorated classroom will take place before a family picnic at 2.30pm.

Whitefield Primary School will be crowning a Queen and Prince from each year group, before pupils perform a song or dance from the era. 1950s music will be played throughout the day, and to top of the celebrations children and staff will be dressed in red, white and blue for a whole school street party. Denbigh Primary School will be hosting a Diamond Jubilee day on Friday.

The day will start with a special assembly about the Queen, before a street party and a jubilee sing-along, where the head boy and girl will lead the National Anthem followed by three cheers.

Ferrars Junior School is holding a street party in their playground also on Friday.

The main event is the arrival of the 'Queen' (not the actual Queen) in her chauffeur driven Jaguar. The red carpet will be out along with 300 flag waving children.

On the same day, pupils from Lea Manor High School will be doing a sponsored walk to Warden Halls dressed in red, white and blue to raise money for Cancer Research, Wateraid and Keech Hospice Care.

Luton South MP Gavin Shaker and Lord and Lady McKenzie are due to attend celebrations at Lady Zia Wernher School, which include mug painting, mining for gold, making crowns and table decorations, and a special tree planting.

Jubilee lunches, playground street parties, and afternoon tea will be held at St Martin de Porres Primary School, William Austin Infants School, Tennyson Road Primary School and Someries Junior School.

MEDIUM

TONY STOCKWELL

Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Wednesday, 7.30pm

FOR those with an interest in Mediumship, the name of Tony Stockwell will certainly need no introduction.

Tony (pictured) has been working tirelessly for more than 20 years to push the boundaries of his communication with those who have passed to the other side, and bring forward messages of love from the grave.

In that time he has had umpteen television programmes, taught at some of the most respected schools for mediumistic development, as well as setting up his own training school for developing mediums. Tony will be appearing at Dunstable, bringing messages of comfort to those who need to hear and understand that a friend, loved one or someone they cared about still exists.

Often working with photographs or objects, he will demonstrate his extraordinary paranormal abilities to communicate amazingly accurate messages to entertain his audience but also to instill a sense of peace, comfort and purpose.

Any demonstration of mediumship is an experiment and results are not guaranteed.

Tickets cost £20, and can be booked by calling the box office on 01582 602080, or visiting www.grovetheatre.co.uk

SHAUN THE SHEEP CHAMPIONSHEEPS LIVE

ZSL Whipsnade Zoo
Saturday, June 2, to Sunday, June 10

WHIPSNADÉ Zoo is set to become a hive of athletic activity this summer as Shaun the Sheep and friends stage their very own sporting extravaganza.

The Championsheeps Live event will transform the zoo into a baa-riantant farmyard filled with sporting challenges for the whole family to enjoy.

Featuring everyone's favourite Shaun the Sheep characters, the sports day with a difference will have plenty to keep ewe and your flock entertained.

As well as a chance to race a Shirley-shaped hopper, dodging fruit obstacles while carrying cake in Shirley's Pie-athon, you will also be able to knock off the vegetable heads of scarecrows with wellie boots in Farmyard Fling; keep the Farmer's prize cabbages up and out of the mud in Cabbage Keepie Uppie; and dress as a Naughty Pig and race to prove you're the fastest porker in the yard in the Naughty Pigs Sack Race.

Other activities include Flock 'n' Roll where teams will work to roll a giant Shirley around the obstacle course; Get Fit with the Flock, a mass participation session of hula hooping, aerobics and line dancing; and a chance to put your artistic abilities to good use by adding to a clay model farmyard scene in Sheep Shape.

All of these activities are included in the standard zoo admission ticket.

Shaun the Sheep, who found fame through his BBC TV programme, is known around the world for his cheeky japes and whether you're new to Shaun or a dyed-in-the-wool fan, you're sure to enjoy the farmyard fun at ZSL Whipsnade Zoo this summer.

Entry costs £20.50 for adults, £15.50 for children, while under-threes go free.

CLASSIC CARS

MOTOR RALLY

Priory Gardens, Dunstable
Saturday, June 9, 10am

THE Classic Motor Rally is back in Priory Gardens for the fourth year running and hopes to be bigger and better than ever.

Chairman of Community Services Committee Liz Jones said: "The Classic Motor Rally has become one of Dunstable Town Council's most popular events, with people coming from miles around to either show a vehicle or to enjoy the day looking at the many cars and bikes on show."

"This year's event is sure to be another excellent day out for everyone."

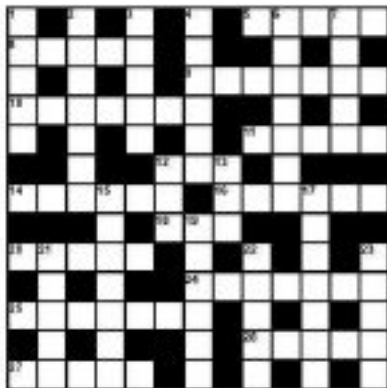

For those wishing to show a vehicle the rally is free to enter; just pick up an application form from Priory House or go to the town council website - www.dunstable.gov.uk and download one, fill in your details and then return it to Priory House. It really is that easy.

As well as the Car Rally you can also enjoy the Priory House Tea Rooms for a cream tea and cake, or visit the Gift Shop for that something a little bit different.

All vehicles will be on site by 10am.

The show runs until 4.30pm.

MODERN COUNTRY HOUSE £2,300,000

The property offers well proportioned and elegantly presented living space throughout and has many features of note, in particular, a beautiful kitchen/breakfast room, attractive master bedroom suite with dressing room (bedroom 6, if required), and without doubt, some of the finest views over rolling countryside from all the principal rooms. Glebe House is one of only seven houses, which make up Hoo Park. This most select enclave of properties can be approached from two directions through gated entrances. The front drive passes over a beautiful bridge designed by Sir William Chambers - Architect of Somerset House, London. To the rear of the house is a large sun terrace, which enjoys a fabulous south facing aspect. The garden has been carefully landscaped and incorporates a number of herbaceous borders, mature trees and shrubs and is flanked by established hedgerows. The views over the countryside can be appreciated from all areas of the garden and to the side of the house is a pretty 'cottage garden' area.

In association with

Badge of Honour

More striking to look at than the Vectra but also more spacious and with an improved engine range, the Vauxhall Insignia looks like a winner. The optional four-wheel-drive system should go down well at the top end of the range helping the Insignia to extend its appeal to more private buyers.

This car is offered with five engines initially. For petrol buyers, there's an entry-level 1.8-litre 140PS ECOTEC unit, then a rather large gap to a 220PS 2.0-litre turbocharged unit, sitting below a 2.8-litre V6 260PS range-topper developing 325PS in VXR guise. If you want a CDTi diesel, there are a couple of fresh 2.0-litre ones, developing either 130 or 160PS. The Insignia marks the start of a new era for the brand and there's plenty of reasons for optimism. Vauxhall has worked hard to broaden the appeal of the Insignia beyond that of the fleet-favourite Vectra and it appears to have been successful.

Efforts to inject extra style and flair to the look of the car should go down well, the front camera system is neat and the optional four-wheel-drive system is an interesting addition to the medium range sector. Is this car as sharp to drive as its Mondeo rival? Perhaps not, but there's not much in it and the clever FlexRide system gives it a technological edge. There's not very much on the debit side, unless you count the big gap between the two four cylinder petrol engines' output and their unremarkable fuel economy. Overall, what's crucial is that the basics seem to work. The Insignia looks a desirable, cleverly designed package that will give rivals something to think about.

Join us at our launch event from 1st to 5th June and you could win a new Citigo S⁺.

You'd think it would be tricky to pack everything you'd expect from a ŠKODA into a small city car. But not when it's as spacious as the 3 or 5-door Citigo, both of which can seat four adults comfortably and carry 251 litres of whatever you fancy in the boot. You're also safe in the Citigo's hands thanks to a 5 star NCAP safety rating.

To find out more come and meet us at our launch event or visit: www.citigofromskoda.co.uk/progress-letchworth

GUTTED: George Pilkington

George bemoans a poor campaign

LUTON Town captain George Pilkington admitted that this season's campaign has been the weakest since the club slipped into the non-league.

The skipper, who has played in all three efforts to get back into the Football League, said that the team struggled after finding themselves behind champions, Fleetwood Town, so early on.

Speaking after the 2-1 Blue Square Bet Premier play-off final defeat to York City, at Wembley, he said: "We chased Stevenage hard in the first year and we fell a bit short last year losing the final on penalties.

"This year Fleetwood had an exceptional season and we found ourselves quite a few points back early on.

"Maybe that is why our form dipped in the middle of the season, but the new manager came in and brought a new momentum with him. It felt like this was our year and we hit form at a good point.

"Our main goal now is to win the league next season and go up automatically.

"The play-offs aren't something we want to be involved with again.

"We need to remember what this defeat feels like and push on."

The captain also said he was disappointed that both of the York City goals came from set pieces.

He said: "The goals came from mistakes made by us defensively and we will be looking to put that right next season.

"We've got to hold our hands up and say we were responsible, and we let our supporters down more than anything."

'We were shambolic when I came in but we've put pride back in Luton shirt'

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutonsonunday.com

PAUL Buckle said that his players have put "pride back into the Luton shirts" since his appointment as manager, which he hopes is something the team will build on next season.

Though his team lost 2-1 in the play-off final to York City at Wembley last Sunday, the Town boss hailed the dramatic transformation of the side he saw lose 3-1 to Braintree Town before he took charge.

Speaking after the defeat on Sunday, he said: "The team haven't let me down in terms of work rate and commitment.

"Not many of us know what it's like to play in a Wembley final. They gave me everything, and have given me everything since I became manager.

"With all due respect we were shambolic when I came in and we've put some pride back into the Luton shirts and moved it forward unbelievably.

"I don't want to take anything away from York, but they played a very different Luton side. Two or three months ago we would have been out on our knees approaching the end of the game, but it was the York players that were flagging.

"Football is a strange game, sometimes you get what you deserve and sometimes you don't. We didn't get any luck, and it wasn't our day.

"But I'd like to let the fans know I'll do everything humanly possible next season to make it their season."

But Buckle said that despite the disappointment the focus will quickly turn to next season's campaign, and that there could be some new additions to the squad.

He said: "It's not easy, it's a tough old league and we've got to do everything we can to get out of it.

"That starts with hard work every day in training, being unrelenting in our approach and having the right mentality, as I truly believe that comes out in games.

"It also means we've got to bring the right players to the club to add to what we've got now."

Buckle would have brought league title

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutonsonunday.com

ROBBIE Willmott believes Luton would now be preparing for a new season in the Football League, rather than a fourth term in the Conference, if Paul Buckle had been in the managerial hotseat all season.

The winger has enjoyed a resurgence under the new boss, who was appointed in March after an eight-game winless streak spelled the end for predecessor Gary Brabin.

Then, Luton were languishing outside the Blue Square Bet Premier play-off places but Buckle saw them to a six-game unbeaten run to book their place in the end of season shake-up.

But a 2-1 defeat against York City in the final at Wembley last week saw them fail to win promotion for the third campaign running.

Willmott, who is out of contract this summer, said: "When Gary Brabin was in charge I had a few personal problems which I needed to deal with, and it took me a while to get through them, so I wasn't at my best. Then the new gaffer has come in and he's given me a new lease of life. I can't ask for a better gaffer to be honest."

"I believe that if Buckle came in at the start of the season, we'd have won the league. So I'm pretty excited to see what he's going to do next season.

"When I had my personal problems, I knew going into almost every game I was going to be subbed first, or not playing. Now the gaffer's making me train more, longer and harder. I'm trying to show him what I'm about, take my football more seriously and show the world what I can do and what I can produce.

"I'm just hoping now that there is a contract on the table. I'll talk with the manager and the directors and see where it leads me."

NEW ROLE: Dean Brennan

Holmes leaves Blues to join Brennan at Tudors

PETER Holmes has left Dunstable Town to join former Blues team-mate and now manager of Hemel Hempstead Dean Brennan.

The 31-year-old ex Luton Town midfielder joined the Creasey Park club last summer after professional spells in the Blue Square Bet Premier with Ebbsfleet United and Hayes & Yeading United.

Brennan, a former Luton Town midfielder and Dunstable player/coach was this week announced as the Tudors' boss while former Blues and Barton Rovers man Stuart Maynard will work as his assistant.

Their first order of business was to swoop for Holmes, former Dunstable defender Danny Hutchins and Hemel old boy Fiston Manuella.

Earlier this month Holmes captained Dunstable at Kenilworth Road against the Hatters in the Bedfordshire Senior Challenge Cup final, scoring a stunning goal to draw the South Midlands League Premier Division side level at 4-4 in extra time before a late Dan Walker goal sealed victory for Luton.

Brennan began his career at Sheffield Wednesday before earning a two-year contract at Luton Town.

The midfielder then enjoyed an illustrious career in non-league football with spells at Stevenage, Grays Athletic, Lewes, AFC Wimbledon, Cambridge City, Chesham United and Hemel Hempstead.

In March 2010, at the age of 29, he was appointed interim manager of the Tudors in a bid to avoid relegation following the sacking of previous incumbent Gary Phillips. Together with assistant manager and Watford legend Luther Blissett, Brennan went on to amass enough points in the remaining nine games that eventually saw Hemel Hempstead earn a reprieve to stay in the Southern League Premier Division as well as win the Hertfordshire Senior Cup and St Mary's Cup.

He moved to Dunstable at the start of the 2011/2012 season as player/coach, scoring against Chesham United as Town went through to the FA Cup third round qualifier, finishing second in the Molten Spartan South Midlands Premier Division with an impressive 99 points.

His new assistant Maynard began his career with Watford as an apprentice followed by a brief spell in Holland. He enjoyed a successful non-league career playing for St Albans, Aylesbury United, Enfield, Hitchin Town, Dunstable Town, Chesham United and Barton Rovers.

Before joining Hemel Hempstead, both managers were professional scouts and have secured a number of signings at league and non-league level, including many placements in the Southern League Premier last season.

■ NEIGHBOURS AFC Dunstable have announced a pre-season friendly with Hemel at Creasey Park on July 25 (kick-off TBA) – one of four initially scheduled. The ODS will also face Southern League Central Division Northwood (2pm) at home on July 22, Totternhoe (kick-off TBA) away on July 28 and then a home encounter with United Counties League Premier Division outfit Kempston Rovers (7.45pm) on August 8.

Town out to keep perfect start going

BEDS CRICKET LEAGUE

LUTON Town & Indians will be aiming to extend their lead at the top of the Bedfordshire County Cricket League Premier Division today when they travel to third-placed Flitwick.

They are the only undefeated team in the competition following their three-wicket victory at home to Amphill Town last weekend.

Aravind Varma's 4-38 helped them dismiss the visitors for 177, with skipper Adnan Bashir's 50 not out helping guide them past the target with 14 balls to spare.

Going into today's round of matches, Indians currently hold a 24 point lead over Dunstable Town after they suffered their first defeat of the year away to Flitwick.

They had opted to field first after winning the toss, with the hosts closing on 212-8 and Luke Cherry and Terry Carr taking two wickets each.

But Jake Higginbotham ripped through the Dunstable top and middle order with 5-17 to help skittle Town out for just 114 in 32.1 overs.

They have the perfect opportunity to get back to winning ways today when bottom side Ickwell visit Lancot Park.

Lutonians are looking to build on their first win of the season last Sunday as they host Southill Park this afternoon.

Mohammed Haroon scored a century (not out) as their total of 287-3 proved too much for Leighton Buzzard Town last week, with the visitors being shot out for 145 in 29.1 overs to give Lutonian a 142 run victory.

Rashid racks up runs as Majestics cruise it

LUTON MIDWEEK CRICKET LEAGUE

LUTON Majestics stunned AKCC as they beat them to open their Premier Division account in style.

Majestics had Assad Rashid in fine form as he cracked a brilliant 78 and then went on to take 2-1 to restrict AKCC to 114-8.

His side, who were unlucky to concede a boundary off the last ball to lose to Lions CC last week, ensured they wrapped the match up by 28 runs.

Newly promoted Kingsway CC kicked off their top flight campaign with defeat against champions Luton Pakistanis who beat them by 37 runs.

Pakistanis batted first and got off to a flying start thanks to Mohammad Haroon who cracked an unbeaten 68 to lead his team to 175-3.

In reply, Kingsway started off quickly with Gurdeep Jandu (42) and Assad Hussain (26) smashing the bowling to all parts of the ground, but once they departed only Tabraiz Khan (27) led a short recovery. It all got too much as Amer Rizwan, who earlier made 21 with the bat, used all his bowling experience to end up with 4-22.

Luton Haideerys hammered 136-7 against Luton Hawks as Zawar Hussain (35), Husnain Shah (22) and Riaz Shah (19) contributed well with the bat. Hawks then got off to the worst possible start as they lost five wickets for two runs as Hassan Parvez (3-20) bowled exceptionally well. But after a brief recovery to save them from embarrassment, Hawks could only limp to 71 all out.

In Division 1 Luton Cricketers chased well to win against Luton CC who earlier made 130-8. Nayaz Ali was in fine form for Cricketers as he cracked an unbeaten 51.

Another clinical display by Luton Saracens ensured an easy victory against Shaheen CC. Tavar Hussain (4-13) starred with the ball as Shaheen were skittled out for just 83. Saracens then made easy work of the target as they chased it down and Bilal's 30 not out led them to an eight-wicket victory.

Kashmir Cavaliers, who were surprisingly relegated from the Premier Division for the first time last season, registered their first victory of the campaign over AKXI who batted first and made 116-7 with Masood top scoring with 39. In reply Cavaliers wasted no time hunting down the total as Earl Lee, who earlier took 3-23, smashed a quick-fire 76 to lead his team to an eight-wicket victory.

In Division 2 Alpha CC lost again as they could only make 98-5 against Accident Specialists. The victors had Amaan Hussain to thank as his 34 runs led his team triumphantly home by six wickets.

Luton Eagles registered their second win of the season as they once again won comfortably against The Saracens.

Eagles were set only 83-8 off Saracens' allotted overs as Abdul Rahim 4-13 bowled very well. In reply, Eagles raced to the total as Asif Ramzaan hit 45 not out.

Challney CC, who could only manage 86, suffered another defeat as they lost to Haideery Tigers by eight wickets. Moin was the star batsman for Tigers who made an unbeaten 53.

Keith to carry Olympic flame

RUGBY UNION

LUTON Rugby Club chairman Keith Butten has been named as one of the Olympic torchbearers and the Newlands Road outfit are set to host an Olympic celebration on the same day.

He will carry the flame on July 8 in Hatfield between 2.24pm and 4pm as it makes its way to Luton, while the club will stage its own ceremony, culminating when two of their most successful youth sides from recent years reunite and take on each other in 'The Burnout' (7pm).

Prior to the kick-off, Luton Rugby Mini players will take part in their own torch relay using the same one used to carry the Olympic flame earlier that day.

Butten received two torchbearer nominations in recognition of his services to rugby and the club in particular.

Further details of the club events will appear on www.lutonrugby.com as the day approaches.

Hatters chief Sweet calls for Conference to give more promotion hope to clubs

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

james.cunliffe@lutononsunday.com

LUTON Town chief Gary Sweet has vowed to push for more promotion places in the Conference if he ever gets the chance.

His comment came before the Hatters lost in the Blue Square Bet Premier play-off final for the second year running with last Sunday's 2-1 defeat to York City at Wembley.

It consigned the club to a fourth year in the non-league while the Minstermen ended an eight-year stay to return to League Two alongside champions Fleetwood, who clinched the non-league top flight's only automatic promotion place.

Those clubs can now look forward to playing in a division which offers four promotion places, while the same number move in and out of the Conference each summer. But with just two on offer for successful clubs, Sweet admits the numbers do not add up.

"I would even say four up and four down," the Luton managing director said, adding: "My opinion won't change."

Next term Luton will be part of a Blue Square Bet Premier roster in which almost half will be former Football League clubs, so there is growing clamour that the promotion allocation in the game's fifth tier be brought in line with divisions above and below.

Sweet added: "From Premier League to Championship – that's three [promotion places], while League Two to League One is four. In the leagues below the Conference it's four. Why is it two in the Conference?"

"Of course that's going to create a horrendous bottleneck in that league, so it's got to be at least three in my opinion. If, in the future, I ever get into a position where I can have an impact on whether it's two or three clubs coming up and down from those leagues, I will always vote for three."

Another season in the non-league is a bitter blow for the club, not only financially, but because the division struggles to accommodate a club the size of Luton, according to Sweet.

He said: "No disrespect to the Conference, because it's a good place for a club to come and rehabilitate and recover, but with a big club like this, we are out of sorts and out of shape for this league."

"The Conference isn't great at dealing with very large clubs like Luton."

"Look at the two clubs coming down [Hereford and Macclesfield] – no disrespect to them – but they won't struggle as much as Plymouth would have done."

"It's really about us."

"When we took the business out of administration four years ago it took two to three years to really get rid of the chaos – it was in a real mess."

"I think this last year is the first that we've really begun to professionally develop as a business, but that's about us."

"When there's a million pounds difference between League Two and the Conference, it would have been easier to do it in League Two, I can assure you."
